SHAPE LOWER BODY

Thread a long length of yarn onto a darning needle. Push the needle right through the lower body from side to side at the points where the legs will be attached. Now leaving a gap of a few stitches, run the needle back through the body a few stitches away from the starting point. Pull yarn end to squash the lower body so that there are depressions on either side of the body. Repeat this a few times. Pull both ends of the yarn tightly and tie together securely. Thread both ends onto the needle and lose them inside the body. Attach legs.
